The story is told about a holy old man who used to meditate every morning under a large tree on the banks of the river Ganges in northern India. The place he chose was near a site of pilgrimage where Hindus came to wash in the sacred river and cleanse themselves from sin. One morning, after he had finished his meditation, the old man noticed a large scorpion floating helplessly on the strong current of the river. The scorpion became caught in the tree's long roots that extended into the river bed. The more it struggled to free itself, the more entangled it became in the twining roots. The old man reached out to free the captive animal and, as soon as he touched it, the scorpion lifted its tail and stung him wildly. But the old man reached out again to free it!

A young man was passing and saw what was happening. He shouted out, "Old man, what's wrong with you? You must be crazy! Why bother risking your life to save such an ugly useless creature?"

The old man turned to the onlooker, and in his pain asked him a question. "Friend," he said, "because it is the nature of the scorpion to sting, why should I give up my own nature to save?"

This story of the old man and the scorpion raises a problem that we all face: do we take our cue for action from the treatment we receive from others, or do we continue in the way of graciousness even when we get stung ourselves? Jesus argues that the love his disciples give people is not related to the love they receive from others. This love is not a social contract or a fair bargain. The disciple loves because that is what the nature of discipleship involves! Obviously, Jesus realized that love does not transform enemies into instant friends. Love didn't solve all of Jesus' problems with his enemies. In the end he was the one who reached out to free others and was mortally stung in the process. However, he always remained with his supreme value because that emerged from who he was as the Son of the Father. This is the way we discover what perfection is really all about!

FORMED: Who Am I to Judge?

“Who are you to impose your morality on others?”

“What’s true for you isn’t necessarily true for me.”

Rise above the culture of moral relativism with Who Am I to Judge? – an 8 part study program. Learn how Catholic morality is all about love, how making a judgment is not judging a person’s soul, and how, in the words of Pope Francis, “relativism wounds people” and is “the spiritual poverty of our times.”

RESPECT LIFE MINISTRY

February – 4th month

The “Little One” posters displayed in the vestibule of the church are of beautiful pre-born children at the various stages of development inside their mothers’ wombs. Many posters displayed on January 27, 2017 during the 44th Roe v. Wade anniversary March for Life in Washington DC were photographs of mutilated and dismembered pre-born infants that would break your hearts to see. Continue to pray for your “Spiritually Adopted” baby so that he/she will continue to resemble the babies on our posters, not those on the posters of “legally” aborted babies!

Fourth Month (size: about 9 inches)

The baby’s brain has begun maturing – a process that will continue until she is about 14 years old. Her eyelids are now sealed shut and will re-open at 7 months. Her taste buds are working. Nutrients consumed by her mother are passed on to her within an hour or 2. Three hundred quarts of fluid a day are sent to the baby via the umbilical cord. Fine hair begins to grow on head, eyebrows and eyelashes. Facial expressions similar to the baby’s parents can be seen at this time. This month REMs (rapid eye movements) have been recorded – a sign of dreaming. Abortion.”

STEWARDSHIP UPDATE

The following scripture should leave no doubt about the dangers of riches.

Mark 4: 18-19. “Those sown among thorns are another class. They have listened to the word, but anxieties over life’s demands, and the desire for wealth, and cravings of other sorts come to choke it off; it bears no yield.”

Catholic Review: Second Collection – The Catholic Review is mailed to every registered household in the parish four times a year and is delivered to the parish in bulk eight times a year to be given out at the mass. The goal of The Bible and the Sacraments is to understand where the Sacraments come from, what they mean, and why they are so important and foundational to our Catholic faith.

The free online limited-time study begins on March 1, 2017 and will continue in 11 lessons through the Lenten season. Sign up now to participate in this deeply moving Bible study.
