The basic message of Easter is simply this: Life is stronger than death! When all is said and done, life will come out as the winner; Jesus, the victorious one, is the one who is stronger than death!

Easter is also the greatest promise that could ever be made to anyone! It is the promise of eternal, everlasting life after our physical death. It is the promise of being saved from all of the deaths that we have gone through and still have to suffer at this particular time. It is the promise that life is always stronger than death, that nothing, no matter what it is, can prevent us from being alive in this world, even when circumstances seem to say that there is nothing left living for. However, this promise demands that we must claim this resurrection, this new life for ourselves. Thus, we should not be content with anything less than the new life that comes from Christ himself!

Jesus is the one who saves us, who rescues us. His resurrection is the promise that we also shall rise, not only after death, but also in this life! So, do you feel trapped by your own behavior? Have you tried to change something about yourself that you know hurts other people but have not been able to? Are you imprisoned by the flames of alcoholism, or greed or passion? Do you want out of your present circumstances which seem to threaten to kill any life you have left in yourself? We must all throw our arms wide open, and truly welcome the risen Christ into our lives. In Christ, all things are truly possible! And so, Easter is the day of hope. We can survive anything. No matter how bad it seems, God will help us triumph! The tomb, after all, is empty! Christ is alive in us! Happy Easter!!

PARISH INFORMATION

“FIELD OF THE INNOCENTS”

While you celebrate the re-birth of our Savior among your family and friends, remember in your prayers those whose opportunity for life was ended before they had a chance to enjoy it.

For the 16th year, St. Mary's Respect Life Ministry has set up the "Field of the Innocents" display of small white crosses representing the staggering abortion statistics in the United States. Each of the 139 crosses displayed represents a pre-born child killed by abortion every hour of every day in this country.

Over 50 million pre-born infants have died "legally" since 1973 in this country alone. To put this figure into perspective, this means that there were more American victims of legal abortions in 2015 than there have been American casualties in the Revolutionary War, the Civil War, World Wars I and II, the Korean Conflict, the Vietnam War, the Gulf War, and the current war in the Middle East – combined.

Please reflect upon the crosses of the innocent young ones – for whom Christ died as much as He did for those of us fortunate enough to have been allowed to be born -- and resolve to pray with us for an end to abortion.

SUCCESSFUL MARRIAGES ARE BUILT ON POSITIVE LITTLE MOMENTS

Mother Teresa’s words to “do small things with great love” resonate in a particular way in marriage. A recent article from the Institute for Family Studies, based on a report from the University of Texas in January 2017, explores the relationship between marital satisfaction and regular positive interactions. The study gave nearly 200 newlyweds (married less than six months) a series of surveys over a three-year period that assessed positive experiences in their relationship, negative behaviors between the spouses, and the couples’ overall marital satisfaction. It found that couples who have far more positive than negative interactions, however “mundane,” have happier marriages and higher marital satisfaction. Drawing from the work of Dr. John Gottman and others, the researchers noted that interactions between spouses can be likened to a bank account: positive interactions are like making a deposit, while negative interactions are like withdrawing money. Having more “an internal storage of positive feelings, as a result of positive interactions with one’s spouse, bolsters overall marital satisfaction. With more emotional capital, spouses are “less vulnerable to negative experiences,” such as occasional criticism, impatience, and other marital conflicts. These findings echo the “magic ratio” of Dr. Gottman, who believes that the most stable marriages consistently have five positive interactions for every one negative interaction. Positive interactions can be anything from shared leisure time, smiling when one’s spouse comes home from work, or a simple expression of appreciation. While no marriage is completely immune from hard times, intentionally treating your spouse with love and respect no matter what can strengthen and sustain the quality of your relationship over time. An understanding of emotional capital and communication styles can also be a vital tool for pastors, counselors, and other family life ministers as they seek to help married couples live out their vocation.
